

Because this web site is not affiliated with the Center City Bowling center and they have made no attempts to contact this webmaster, there is no information on this site regarding any of their operations or costs of any of their products or services. I am sorry for the inconvenience but am only keeping this site up until the domain name expires this coming August 2015.

As far as I know, the telephone number listed is their contact phone. Please contact them directly for any information regarding their costs and/or services.

I will however, maintain the "in memory" and photo gallery parts of THIS site active, reachable from one of my other sites: <http://www.oiccs.com> until I physically am unable to continue. I own the oiccs.com site at least until 2014.

Sincerely,

George A. Lee
